OUR MISSION & HISTORY

Nurtury gives Greater Boston's youngest children in need, birth to age five, the opportunity to reach their full potential by investing in school readiness, promoting healthy development, and strengthening families.

When our first program opened in 1878, Nurtury became New England's first early education and care agency. Since then, Nurtury has transformed child care to include high-quality educational programming and family support resources. We also embrace a leadership role in the early education field in Boston, convening other family-support organizations, and advocating for the early education workforce at the state level.

Through our center-based programs and family child care system, we have touched generations of children and their families. Every year we care for, and educate 1,200 of Greater Boston's youngest and most vulnerable children at six early learning centers and 130 family child care sites.

Nurtury at Franklin Square House was merged into the Nurtury family in 2017, and has served children and families in the Mission Hill neighborhood community for more than 30 years. Franklin Square expands Nurtury's footprint in Greater Boston, becoming the sixth center that serves twenty-nine children in two classrooms — expanding our toddler and preschool classrooms to forty agency-wide.
