OUR MISSION & HISTORY

Nurtury gives Greater Boston's youngest children in need, birth to age five, the opportunity to reach their full potential by investing in school readiness, promoting healthy development, and strengthening families.

When our first program opened in 1878, Nurtury became New England's first early education and care agency. Since then, Nurtury has transformed child care to include high-quality educational programming and family support resources. We also embrace a leadership role in the early education field in Boston, convening other family-support organizations, and advocating for the early education workforce at the state level.

Through our center-based programs and family child care system, we have touched generations of children and their families. Every year we care for, and educate 1,000 of Greater Boston's youngest and most vulnerable children at our early learning centers and family child care sites.

Established in 1882 and later moved to its current location, Mt. Pleasant Street became the child care component of the Project Family Independence in Roxbury, a collaborative housing project designed to provide permanent, low-income housing to single parents. We serve infants, toddlers, and preschoolers, ages 2 months to 6 year old.
